ADDRESS.

THIS Book is published with the assistance of the several Railway Companies, on which account the information it contains may be depended upon as being correct and authentic. The necessity for such a work is so obvious as to need no apology; and the merits of it can be best ascertained by a reference to the execution both as regards the style and correctness of the Maps and Plans with which it is illustrated.

To Railway Companies.

G. BRADSHAW would feel particularly obliged by an intimation being forwarded to him at 27, Brown-street, Manchester, of any change in Fares or Times of Departure, on any of the Lines, in order that the correction may be immediately made in the work.

The 3rd Class train takes passengers, private carriages, and horses, at the following charges:—From London to Birmingham, Passengers 14s., private carriages £3, horse boxes £4, and in proportion for intermediate stations.

Sunday Trains.—Mixed 8 a.m., mail* 9¾ a.m., mixed to Wolverton 6 p.m., mail* mixed 8½ p.m.

Children under Ten Years of age, Half-price. Infants in arms, unable to walk free of charge—Soldiers en route are charged under a special agreement.—Dogs are charged for any distance not exceeding 30 miles, 1s.; 55 miles, 2s.; 85 miles 3s.; and the whole distance, 4s. No dogs allowed to be taken inside the carriages.

The check ticket given to the passenger on the payment of his fare will be required from him on leaving the coach or at the station next before his arrival at London or Birmingham; and if not then presented he will be liable to have the Fare again demanded. No Smoking is allowed at the stations, or in the company's carriages.

Carriages and Horses should be at the stations a quarter of an hour before the time of departure, and they cannot be forwarded by any train unless there, at the least, five minutes before its time of departure, which time is punctually observed, and after the doors are closed no Passengers can be admitted.

To guard against accident and delay, it is especially requested that passengers will not leave their seats at any of the stations except Wolverton (half way), where ten minutes are allowed for refreshment.

A Passenger may claim the seat corresponding to the number on his ticket, and when not numbered he may take any seat not previously occupied.—No gratuity, under any circumstances, is allowed to be taken by any servant of the company.

The Trains marked with an asterisk (*) are in conjunction with those of the Grand Junction Railway; sufficient time being allowed at the Birmingham Station, where refreshments are provided, and waiting rooms, with female attendants.

The 3rd class train takes passengers, private carriages, and horses, at the following charges.—From Birmingham to London, Passengers 14s, carriages £3, horse boxes £4, and in proportion for intermediate stations.

Sunday Trains.—Mixed from Wolverton 6 1/4 a.m. *Mail 8 1/2 a.m. *Mixed 1 1/2 p.m. *Mail, mix. 12 p.m.

The first class trains consist of 1st class & mail carriages, carrying 4 inside, (one compartment of which is convertible into a bed carriage) and of carriages carrying six inside. The mixed consist of 1st cl. carriages, carrying six inside, and of 2nd cl. car. OPEN at the side, and without linings, cushions, or divisions. The night mail train consists of first class carriages carrying six inside, and of 2nd class carriages CLOSED, and entirely protected from the weather.—Each carriage has a small roof lamp.

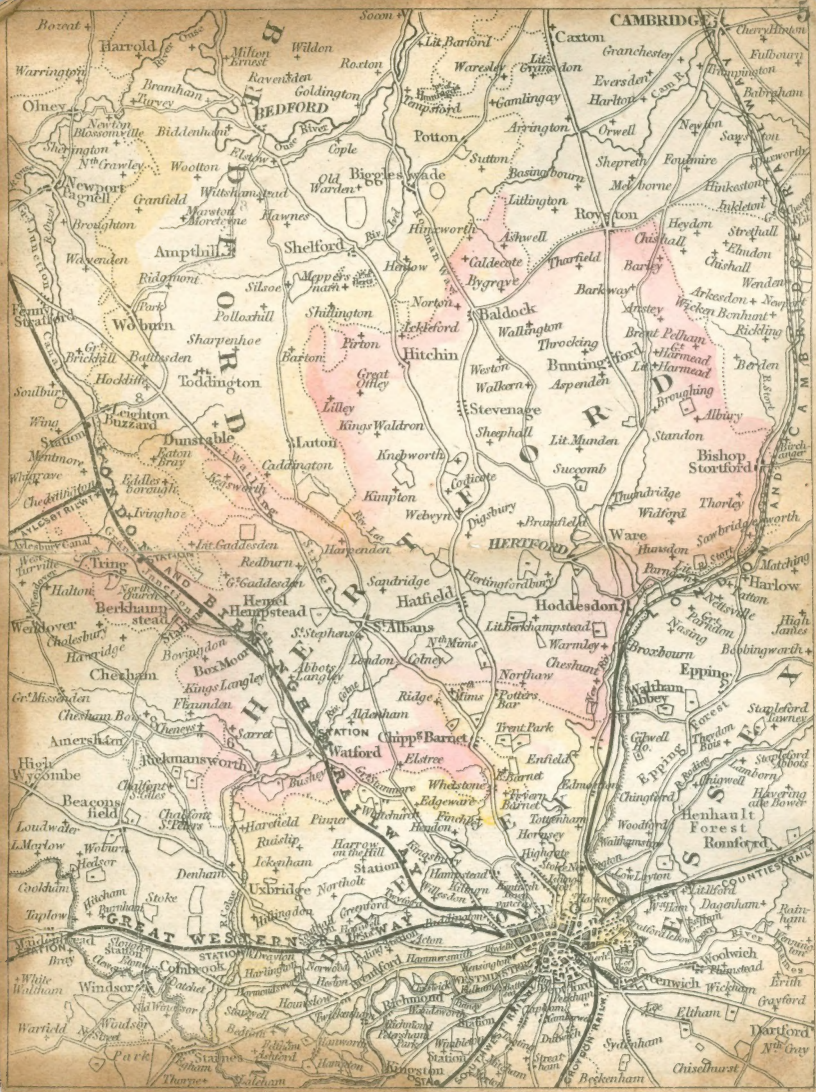

Passengers are especially recommended to have their names and address, or destination, legibly written on each part of their luggage, when it will be placed on the top of the coach in which they ride. If the passenger be destined to Liverpool or Manchester, and has booked his place through, his luggage will be placed on the Liverpool or Manchester coach, and will not be disturbed until it reaches its destination; and to prevent mistakes the passengers should show his ticket to the porters, and see that his luggage is placed on the proper coach.

A passenger having paid his fare, and taken out a ticket, may go by any of the trains of that day, but the ticket will not be available on the following day unless under special circumstances, when it may be exchanged for a new pass for the day required.

The trains marked this (*) are in conjunction with those of the Grand Junction Railway; sufficient time being allowed at the Birmingham station, where refreshments are provided, and waiting rooms, with female attendants.

A RAILWAY MUSEUM.

A museum filled with curios of our railway system, and giving its history, from the days of "Puffing Billy" to the present time, should be immensely popular. The London and North-Western Company propose to establish such an exhibition, so soon as a suitable site in the neighbourhood of Euston Station can be obtained.

The Company has already gathered together the nucleus of the collection. They have a baton used by constables of the London and Birmingham Company (the title of an old line which the London and North-Western Railway acquired), and a copy of the first issue of Bradshaw's Railway Guide, dated "10th mo., 25th, 1839." The book in question contains only a dozen pages, with a few maps, and is bound in cloth, its size being 5in. by 4in., a complete contrast to the "Bradshaw" of to-day. Another interesting exhibit is the saloon carriage used by the Dowager Queen Adelaide. In connection with the trains of that period the company quotes the following extract from an old guide-book:—"The first class trains consist of first class and mail carriages, carrying four inside (one compartment of which is convertible into a bed carriage if required), and of carriages carrying six inside. The mixed trains consist of first class carriages, carrying six inside, and of second class carriages, open at the side, without linings, cushions, or divisions, in the compartments. The night mail trains consist of first class carriages, carrying six inside, and of second class carriages, closed, and entirely protected from the weather."
